Many thanks for the confirmation and for the country team bios.

I've changed the time on the schedule and will send around a revised version by COB today.

Best,
Anna

[Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy] I'm just starting to go through these but think this will be plenty and will probably choose a select few among these riches to include.

Thanks, once again, to you and Lee for your help and prompt response!

Team EPA,

Here are some background and tips for Rome. I have also included our CLO's Veneto Views, which is a weekly newsletter that goes out to the embassy community to keep us abreast of what is happening in Rome and things to do. If you have any questions, please let us know.

Thanks Anna. I see that you hadn't plugged Tullio (short walk from the embassy) in your Thursday schedule from ours. Please either confirm or make another suggestion (for example, we have an inexpensive and delicious cafeteria-style restaurant on our embassy compound and can reserve some nice outdoor seating on our terrace, which also offers the best security profile.)

ED_001811A_00002683-00003

1200 (TBC) Tullio
Website: tullioristorante.it
Location: Via di S. Nicola da Tolentino, 26

[REDACTED] is looking for a quick lunch place after the judicial roundtable on Friday before the Nettuno trip. We also look forward to getting names of all of the restaurants to plug in, and also so that the advance team and our security can check them out.

Fair enough on sending docs back and forth.

We contribute to the CIA World Factbook (although I noticed that the 1/2017 update didn't include the fact that Italy ratified the Paris Agreement in Oct. 2016 that this isn't noted.) <https://www.cia.gov/library/publications/the-world-factbook/geos/it.html>

[REDACTED] will provide some information on Bologna, and Lee will forward some information on Rome.

Cheers, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] the "shells" will follow the format that I've already provided so any input in any/all of those categories would be helpful. Since the papers will be evolving constantly as new information is received, it will be too confusing (and a challenge to maintain version control) to send actual drafts back and forth.

Understood about the Embassy welcome packet. Do you have any suggestions for publicly available materials on Italy/Rome/Bologna that you would recommend we include as background?

And I'm attaching is the revised version of the schedule (#14) which includes the changes for Friday 6/9 that we've discussed this morning. We haven't yet circulated this to the wider group but will do so soon.

Thanks and regards,
Anna

Thank you Anna! We can share, and appreciate it if you'd share your shells so we know what info you need.

after you change Friday's schedule, can you please send team EPA our schedule?

Apparently, the Embassy doesn't like welcome kits circulated electronically, so those packets will just be hard copy.

That all sounds great,

If it's possible to provide a few key items from the welcome packet electronically, that would be really helpful as we'd like to include at least some background in the Administrator's book for review before arrival.

As for the scenarios, I've provided the format that we'll be using and I have already started to create "shells" for various events. So please don't worry about putting everything in final form -- we will take care of putting things in the right place and appreciate your providing the "meat". Also please note that we've been asked to keep briefing materials short, crisp and focused so there isn't a need to write anything lengthy.

We also are working on collecting bios and we will share them when we have them.

Thanks again for everything!

Anna

Hi Anna,

We have welcome packets that you'll get on arrival. (Lee, can you check to see how much of the welcome packets are on line?) We'll also do event scenarios.

We'll certainly do a scenesetter. We were hoping that the White House would have made policy decisions before the Leader's Summit that we could include, but it looks like that won't happen, so I'll probably do the scenesetter next week.

We'll provide bios (for country team briefers - [REDACTED], you could put that together now), in addition to others that we'll be meeting with, and will also appreciate your team's bios. (Mark already provided his.)

Cheers, [REDACTED]

Hi, [REDACTED]

As mentioned in my previous message (below), we were hoping that Embassy Rome could recommend/provide appropriate background materials on Italy, Rome and Bologna for the Administrator's briefing book. We don't need to include a lot but assume that you have a curated package ready for visitors -- and the materials you provide certainly would be a cut above whatever we could gather via the Google Machine. ; -)

We also were wondering if Embassy Rome was preparing a scenesetter which would be most welcome and would provide valuable context for the Administrator.

Many thanks, as always, for your help with all of this!

Best,
Anna

[REDACTED] thanks so much for this and for all of your help.

FYI, we also are starting to sketch out briefing materials for each event so I thought it would be helpful to share the template that we will be using for your reference. However, we are ready to take whatever information you provide in whatever form you can provide it and we will take care of folding into this format as needed.

We also are starting to explore appropriate background materials and would welcome your sharing the information package that Embassy Rome provides to visitors so that we can include some of those materials, as well.

All the best,

Anna

Dear All

I spoke with Marguccio about Bologna agenda. He accepted the "more intimate settings" of the Food Waste event as proposed by EPA (attached), and will inform the Italians about it to find a good location.

For the rest he proposed the following:

13.30 - 13.40 Welcome by Minister Galletti and Unindustria Bologna President Alberto Vacchi in a private room of the restaurant (Minister +1; Pruitt +1; Vacchi and an interpreter)

13.40-14.30 Lunch (location TBD) - (translation will be provided not clear how) - CG [REDACTED] more than welcomed

14.30-15.00 Pruitt-Galletti Bilateral

15:00 Departure for Food Waste Event

15.15 Event "Showcase of Innovative Food Waste Approaches " starts

Best

PS: ESTH is preparing briefing material for each event (both in Rome and Bologna)

Hello Stefano,

Administrator Pruitt welcomes the lunch with entrepreneurs suggested by Minister Galletti. I believe that Hodayah will also want to recommend some U.S. businesses that will be joining us for the G-7.

Regarding the Food Waste event, we are considering some alternative approaches to Showcasing Innovative Food Waste Approaches in a more intimate setting. Hodayah and I will get back to you with some ideas later next week.

Best regards. I hope you are having a wonderful weekend.
